Wexford County Reverend Leads Senate Invocation Guest of Senator McManus Opens Session Day

(LANSING) – The Michigan Senate opened its session today with an invocation from a local chaplain and reverend, state Senator Michelle McManus, R-Lake Leelanau, announced.

Reverend Clifton Burritt, of the Boon Baptist Church and a Chaplain in the Michigan State Police, led Legislators, staff and guests with an opening invocation and prayer for peace.

Reverend Burritt, a resident of Wexford County, then joined Senator McManus for the remainder of session on the Senate floor.
